

DEPARTMENTAL PROFILE

DEPARTMENT OF ASSAMESE

HATIDHURA COLLEGE, HATIDHURA

▪ Introduction:

Our college was established in 1990. Since its inception, the college has been studying compulsory modern Indian language in Assamese subject with a class of 300 to 500 students. The Assamese major course was started in 2010 under the supervision of the then principal Lalan Sonar Prasad but was closed in the next year due to lack of permission from the University of Gauhati. As a result of the efforts of our principal Dr. Farid Uddin Ahmed and College Governing body, Assamese Major Course started again in 2017-2018 session, and is still going on.

▪ Vision:

- To inspire students to literary practice.
- Emphasis on language empowerment.
- The aim is to make students self-reliant through skill development curriculum.

▪ Mission:

- Through field studies of the students' curriculum is an attempt to bring to light the language, culture, festivals, etc. of that place.
- Trying to bring forward the students through seminar and group discussion etc.

10. SWOC analysis of the department and future plans:

Strength:

- Time to time student counselling.
- The department take active participation in remedial classes for slow learners and poor students.
- Maximum number of enrolment popular with the general course in the department.
- Every year the fourth semester and 6th semester (CBCS) major students have to submit a research project for 50 and 100 marks under the supervision of the teacher of the department as per the guidance of Gauhati University syllabus.

Weakness:

- Unhealthier student teacher ratio.
- The department have not sufficient well-furnished class room and separate library room.
- Socio-economically background at the students are poor and backward.
- Less competitive environment.

Opportunities:

- Nearly 90% of students are from below poverty level. The department offers a great opportunity for overall progress of such student.
- Improving teachers quality and to engage in Research activities, to attend seminar, workshop, conference and to publish Research Articles in UGC Care and Peer Review Journals etc.
- To improve stock of books in the departmental library.
